WORK! WORK! THE MOTTO OF THE SENIOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Another Good Practice Held on the Campus Yesterday Afternoon--Jimmy Lee and Paisley the Only Absentees

EARLY DARKNESS IS PROVING A HINDICAP

Shaughnessy had practically two full squads out yesterday, but once again did not give the men any heavy work. The fellows are all in perfect physical condition, with the exception of Jimmy Lee and Paisley who are both hoping to be ready for a week from Saturday; and their coach is afraid of their going stale if they practice to strenuously. Shaughnessy is also afraid of taking any chances of having a man seriously hurt at this stage of the game and as he believes they can get along without any heavy work he is going to confine the practices chiefly to light exercise and signal practice. There will probably be a line-up against the seconds to-morrow and then the match on Saturday and one heavy practice next week ought to put the men in perfect condition for a play-off a week from Saturday.

Yesterday afternoon Shaughnessy had the men practice chiefly at the passing game. He tried no line plays but devoted the whole practice hour to the essaying of end runs. All the men were given an opportunity to handle the ball and it was strange to see Buster Matheson, Chuck Watrous and Timmins going around the end for a run of fifteen yards or so. Jules showed that he could use the straight-arm very effectively and Chuck's dodging powers were a surprise to most of the spectators at the practice.

The backs, namely Billington, Woollett and Draper spent the practice time in punting to each other and all three showed that they could be relied upon to boot the ball well when occasion called for it. Billington was kicking in fine form and showed that he must have been a little off his game on Saturday or he would have kicked as well as Hazlett. The catching of the backs was also good and they seem to have become quite accustomed to playing in semi-darkness. This may be a very useful asset later on as the season seems to be going to continue for sometime yet and some of the games are sure to be finished in the dusk.

The white ball had to be produced at 4.45 p.m. as at that time it was impossible to see the ordinary pigskin at all. The practices are always finished in the dark these days and it almost seems as if something would have to be done to have them started at an earlier hour.

The game on Saturday will be a very interesting contest and should attract a large crowd. The Parkdale team are a strong aggregation and will take a lot of beating and so the contest ought to be a close and exciting one. This will be the first time in three weeks that McGill has played at home and their supporters will all be out to see how the team is playing and to get a line on them for the Championship Games.

The men put at yesterday's practice included all the regulars except Bignell and Masson. Hillary had one work which he had to have done for to-day and Gray was in the same predicament.

To-day and to-morrow games in the Wood Cup series will be played and the teams are preparing for the contest with great enthusiasm. To-day the first and second years are playing and to-morrow the third and fourth years will meet in another terrible struggle. There will be many footballers of world-wide repute on all the teams and plays are sure to be pulled off which will go in the annals of football history at McGill University.

the target of the first team during that period.

I am not a freshman, I know a bunsen burner when I see one, I can be temperate when the occasion arises, I do not chew gum and my normal temperature is ninety-eight.

Hoping that the foregoing array of qualifications will meet with your approval, I am,

Yours truly,

E. E. W.

The decision on this application was postponed till a later meeting of the club.

Mr. Hull stated that many verbal applications for positions had been received but that they were not considered as all applications must be sent in in writing. It was stated that applications would in all probability shortly be received from Mr. Pep Paisley and Mr. Thos. H. Kirby and this news was very gratifying to the members of the Club.

The matter of uniforms was left over until the three skilled draughtsmen engaged on the designs should have completed their task. It is expected that they will be both unique and artistic as great pains are being taken in regard to this important matter. The matter of securing rink accommodation was also taken up and negotiations will be conducted with this end in view. The meeting then adjourned.

Some time ago an undergraduate at Oxford was asked by his tutor to write a Latin essay. The subject was "Was Brutus Justified in Killing Julius Caesar." After sitting for an hour and fifty minutes in front of a blank paper he was seized by a brilliant inspiration. He wrote, "Non bene fecit, non male fecit sed interfecit."--"The Student."

THEORY AND PRACTICE

For the first time in the history of the United States the president of a university will occupy the White House. It is a noteworthy fact that the new president elect was a man who in his academical role was recognized as a world wide authority on matters relating to constitutional government. Mr. Wilson's work in the State is perhaps the best known of its kind in the English language. His other work on these lines "Congressional Government a study of Government by Committee" is also well known both in the States and abroad.

Mr. Wilson is a representative university man in every sense of the word. He graduated at Princeton, and took his Ph.D. at John Hopkins. He lectured at the latter university and then at Wesleyan University. He was professor of Jurisprudence and Politics at Princeton from 1892 to 1902 when he became president of that University. During all these years he displayed a keen interest on the subject of Government which he made his life work.

It will be interesting to watch a man trained in Philosophy and scholarship, and an authority on the form of government of his native land conducting that government. It is a remarkable case of theory put to the test of practice. The College President in the White House may perhaps mark a new era in politics on this continent. Who knows but that we might yet see a Principal of McGill or Queens or a President of Toronto leading one of the great Canadian parties in the House of Commons in Ottawa.

"Yale's war on snobbishness among under classmen, which has been one of the reasons for providing more dormitory room on the campus, terminated the last week, when the last of the freshmen that could be accommodated were assigned to rooms on the campus.

The old freshmen quarters in York street are deserted, and for the first time in years landlords and boarding house keepers who have grown rich on the profits from green freshmen are on the lookout for other means of filling their vacant rooms.

This attempt to stamp out class exclusiveness and to bring all the members of each class into closer relationship by rooming together throughout the entire course originated some fifteen years ago with Dean Henry P. Wright. For years he fought in and out of the faculty, for adequate accommodations, realizing that as the classes grew larger and the individual members wealthier the breach would naturally widen between the rich and poor students so that in the end Yale would lose that democratic spirit of which the college has boasted."—Indiana Student.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Toronto papers are censuring McGill severely for kicking against the officials of last Saturday. McGill had grounds to object and Toronto may be sure that McGill will always object if they insist upon appointing such men, as handled the match last Saturday, to officiate in McGill games.

"Pep." Paisley's hand is mending nicely and Ernie is almost sure to be in the game a week from Saturday. The returning of kicks is one of Ernie's strongest points and his wings appreciate the fact very much as nothing is more gratefully perceived by the wing men than when they see the ball coming back to where it started from, as it saves them a lot of running.

The Wood Cup games take place this week and all the teams are getting organized quickly and are going around rooting out the good men.

Last Saturday at Kingston a rather amusing incident took place, at least it was amusing to McGill supporters. The Toronto Harrier Club appeared in the grandstand all wearing blue and white ribbons. Bill Hughes and his rooters at once gave them one of our Rooters' Club songs which starts off like this, "We've got you, we've got you, we've got you Varsity." The Toronto men looked rather downcast at being so forcibly reminded of their crushing defeat down here.

Quite a lot of people up in Kingston asked the McGill supporters if Woolatt was a track man. They seemed to think that he could win the hundred with ease, considering the speed he showed on the football field.

The McGill team want to be very careful of over-confidence as some people have expressed the opinion that the fellows are already counting on beating Varsity without much trouble. No Varsity team, perhaps, with the exception of our last game.

with them, has ever been beaten easily and our fellows want to keep this in mind.

The wet weather continues and also consequently Queen's chances of defeating Varsity improve. An opinion has been expressed that Queen's won't have practiced much this week and cannot be counted on to play their hardest game against Toronto. This is rather an enormous idea as Queen's as much as McGill believe Varsity have had the championship long enough.

R.M.C. had an enviable record in their leagues as in their four games they only had five points scored against them.

Such men as Hall, Gilmour, Williamson and Pennock of the Second team ought to make good in Senior company next year. A great many of our Senior team are leaving this year and there will be many new players needed next fall.

Jimmy Lee's leg is in a very poor condition and he is not at all likely to play this Saturday, but Jimmy has surprised us twice now and may once more surprise us by being in the game against Parkdale.

The English Rugby team are going to Halifax this Saturday to play Dalhousie. This is the first time the English Rugby game has ever been played between two Canadian colleges and it is to be hoped that this game will pave the way to our becoming better acquainted with the Nova Scotia students.

Paisley and Lee were both spectators at yesterday's practice and both are very eager to don their football suits once more and also can be counted upon to be back in the game next week.

Herb Woolatt did not want to leave Kingston on the special train. A little Brownie is said to have been the reason.

CLASS '14 ELECTS FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

A very poorly attended meeting of the Year '14 was held yesterday afternoon in Strathcona Hall, to discuss the Inter-Class football question and to elect a captain and manager.

After the first question had been thoroughly thrashed out with the expenditure of much energy, nominations were called for an resulted in the selection of Ken Duggan as captain and Tony Ribandenevra as manager. The question of signals was gone into and settled, and the selection of the team rests in the hands of the two above mentioned officers, who should certainly be able to pick a winner out of the 1914 squad.

BASKETBALL

There was a fast, snappy basketball practice yesterday afternoon at the gymnasium. There were about fifteen men out, four of them being on last year's Senior Team. These were Duffield, Calder, Baldwin, and Smith. Some preliminary work on the basket was indulged in for a short time and then two teams were picked and the resulting practice game showed some very fast work. Most of the men are already in fairly good condition and when the regular season opens the team should not be lacking on that score. Change in the line-up at frequent intervals kept both teams going the limit. Among those who were out were MacEwen, Upham, Conover, Hovey Smith, Baldwin, Calder, and Duffield.

C. O. T. C. NEWS

Official notification has been received that the Corps has been recognized by the Military Headquarters at Ottawa.

Immediately the Commissioned officers have received official notice of their appointment the men selected by them will be appointed N. C. O's. A number of men were last night measured for Uniform. SECOND POLO TEAM PROVE VICTORIOUS

Defeated Intermediate Y. M.
C. A. in Close Game Last Night

Last night at the Y.M.C.A. baths the McGill Intermediate Polo team defeated the Y.M.C.A. by the score of four to three.

In the first quarter McGill had the deep end and Y.M.C.A. scored three goals. In the second quarter McGill scored three. In the third period neither team tallied and in the last McGill scored one winning the game.

The Teams:
McGill: Montreal, Reid, McKay, Goodfellow, Paterson, Johnson, Trapp, Kennedy, Mactavish, Thorn, Thorman, Smith

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES

In a contest by no means as one-sided as the score indicates, Trinity practically clinched her hold on Division "C" of the Mulock Cup series, by defeating Wycliffe 21 to nil on Friday afternoon. The team work of the winners was much superior to that of their opponents, their end runs working very smoothly, considering the slippery condition of the ground.—Varsity.

The Sophomore men of Indiana University met last week to decide on the distinctive dress. Several styles of caps and hats were shown to the students and after a short discussion the selection was made.

The distinctive dress of the sophomore class will be an English cap of the latest design. It will be very conspicuous, yet have a very pleasing color arrangement of red and black.

Colorado Freshmen have to give a military salute whenever they meet a professor or instructor on the street.—Daily Palo Alto.

Yale University is about to award contracts for its big stadium at New Haven, which will cost $300,000. The stadium will be sunken and the seats will be in the solid earth. The sum of $150,000 has been spent for the new ground.—Indiana Student.

Prof. C. M. McKernon, so that the uniforms may be requisitioned at once. The authorities at the H. Q. in Ottawa have mentioned red coats but in all probability the uniforms will be Khaki which will be much more serviceable.

There are two things that you have a right to demand of a fountain pen—perfect work while in use and good behavior while not in use.
Moore's covers both of these to perfection. Not only does it write the instant you want it to but it keeps on writing freely and evenly as long as there is a drop of ink in the reservoir.
When you are done with the pen a simple operation pulls the pen-point back into the barrel, the cap is screwed on and the ink reservoir becomes an air-tight chamber from which it is impossible for ink to escape.
Moore's is the original non-leakable fountain pen. Naturally the success of this pen has brought forth many imitations, and it is this which prompts us to advise you to look carefully for the Moore imprint.

THE 1914 ANNUAL

To the Undergraduate, "The Annual" needs little introduction—perhaps none. It is a volume, literary and artistic, published annually about the month of February, under the Auspices of each Succeeding Junior Year, and compiled directly by representative elected from each Faculty and R.V.C. Traditionally, it contains, along with accounts of the outstanding College Activities, the general history of the Junior Year in each Faculty and a brief and occasionally pointed biography and appreciation or criticism of each Junior. Each issue is, in brief, a year Souvenir; and every undergraduate should possess the issue published during his Course.

The Business and Editorial board of the 1914 "Annual" are already at work. Several innovations in the style of printing, quality of paper, etc., etc., have been decided upon; and the contract of printing given to the Herald Publishing Company. From the appearance of a specimen Annual, retouched and reprepared by the Herald Press, it is safe to predict that the work of the publishers will be a thing of beauty.

An innovation has also been made in the sale of the Advertising space. As is readily understood, much of the financial support of the publication is derived from the advertising it carries. Previously the Business Board, with much labor and loss of time, made a personal canvas of the business institutions of the City re the sale of advertising space. This year, however, this space has been sold "en bloc" to the "Students Supply" and thus very acceptably much labor and worry obviated.

The photographic work has been placed in the hands of Messrs. Rice, St. Catherine Street, West. The photographers have shown the "Annual" representatives every possible consideration. Whenever convenient, the Juniors may go individually for their sittings. All must present themselves however, before November 15th.

Sittings, individual, $1.25 each; this will furnish plate to the individual. Groups Cost $2.50 for first print. The members of the groups may obtain copies size 8 x 10 for .50c each. A reduction has been obtained for the individual pictures. Should anyone desire a number of his photographs. Regular $3.50 pictures may be had for $2.80 per doz. Regular $6.00 per doz. for $4.00.

As in former years, the Editorial Board will be glad to receive any material, literary or artistic. It has been decided to give prizes of Annuals to those who furnish acceptable material. To each individual supplying three or more accepted drawings, and "Annual" will be given free. These drawings may be designed to serve as full page introductions to the Faculty and Class Sections and the various Club and Athletic departments, they may be marginal or heading ornaments, they may be caricatures of individuals or particular incidents or they may be anything, which, in the opinion of their submitter, might be of utility and if the drawings are not original their source should be indicated.

As regards snaps and photographs and written work in verse or otherwise, whatever is considered worthy, the contributors will receive premium "Annuals." All contributions should be addressed to H. R. Griffith, Sec'y Editorial Board Annual, Strathcona Hall.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor McGill Daily.

Sir:—May I be permitted to draw the attention of the student body to what I believe to be bad policy in the editing of the McGill Annual. The fact is, I think, well established, and admitted by all, that though the Annual is published by the Junior class, it is in one sense a publication for every student. If then the Annual is a publication for the University as a whole why should a large portion be in a form of interest to but one class of students. I refer to that portion dealing with the fraternities.

In the 1913 publication, 27 pages was used to give a list of chapters, and an array of crests. That this space should have been given to fraternity activities, I take no exception, but surely some form of more general interest could be devised. Understand this is in no way directed against the fraternities, but we should remember that there are many readers of the Annual who do not care whether X Y Z has a house in the City of Mexico or whether P. D. Q.'s rest is a castle or a battle axe. A few drawings, photos, and a list of the fraternities with their dates of establishment, etc., would be much more interesting.

This is a matter which is, I think, worthy of the attention of the Editorial Board of the Annual, and on which opinions would be welcomed from both fraternity men and others. Thanking you for your space.

Yours truly,

HUGH B. GRIFFITH.

PHILIP PHILOSOPHIZES

"Well, my dear Rudolph, what are we going to do? We must do something, what is it going to be?" Philip settled a little lower in his chair, reached for the cigarette box, and regarded its emptiness mournfully.

"We might work," I suggested mildly. "My dear fellow," said Philip, "much as I respect the Faculty and their benevolent intention towards us I have not sunk as low as that, not yet."

I reminded him of a University lecture on "How and why we roast lobsters." The gloom settled deeper on his countenance. "If that's all you can think of —"

"Well, there's always a vaudeville show," I ejaculated hurriedly.

Philip looked distinctly pained.

"Really, Rudolph, I am surprised. Do you for a moment imagine, that I would debase my intellect by attempting to enjoy an exhibition of that nature. My days for that are over. Do you imagine that there is any enjoyment for me in the puerile performances of the 'Sixteen Skip-pers' recently returned from an extended European tour of three years, including one in Australia?" The strains of that "Preposterous Bag," and other ditties of a like nature are an insult to humanity." Here Philip began to make an extended tour from the window to the piano and back again. Coming to a standstill and plunging his hands in his pockets he went on "And the chorus girls, the dancing. Oh, horror! I don't think I could stand the sight of Princess Paghi Hasha and her 'Mysterious atmosphere of the Orient.' And then think of the wasted money. What do you think my fond guardians sent me to McGill for?" It may have been my imagination, but the coins which he was turning over in his pocket seemed to give out a distinctly brassy note.

"The wasted money would have been mine," I said gently, "but if you don't care about it, I suppose Jones would be only....."
"Rudolph," he said overcome, "I'll do it for you. I'll do violence to my feelings even though I know you cannot enjoy such a show." Once more in Rimmon's.....
"O! shut up," I shouted, grabbing a book, "and phone for seats."
